International School opening in Dortmund Unna

St. George's, the acclaimed International School, scheduled for September 2010

Cologne 14th January – St. George's The English International School founded in 1985, is opening a new sister school for the region Dortmund Unna in the city of Unna. From September 2010 children aged from 3 - 10 will be able to benefit from the advantage of a well-established international education. The school will teach the internationally recognised English National Curriculum and all lessons will be taught in English. There will, of course, be specialist tuition to help improve childrens' limited English, particularly for the younger pupils.

St. George's The English International School is a state-recognised private school for children aged 2 to 18 located in Cologne, Duisburg and Aachen. St. George's is a co-educational and non-denominational school which is independent of local or state financial support.

St. George's School in association with Unna and Dortmund Economic Development Agencies cordially invite you to a
